The virtual alumni meet was organized by Dr. Sunesh Malik, HOD, IT-E at Lab #107, Maharaja Surajmal Institute of Technology, New Delhi with the objective of strengthening the connection between alumni, students, and faculty. The event provided a warm and interactive platform where alumni shared their academic journeys, professional experiences, and industry insights.

After the talks, alumni spent time reconnecting with their former teachers, sharing stories from their college days, recalling memorable projects, classroom moments, cultural events, and the guidance that shaped their journey. Faculty members appreciated hearing how the foundational training provided by the institute played a significant role in their professional achievements.

Students engaged actively with alumni, gaining valuable insights into academic and career challenges, internships, placements, work–life balance, and emerging industry skills. The meet fostered meaningful student–alumni interaction through Q&A sessions, networking, and career guidance, while highlighting alumni enthusiasm to stay connected and support future academic initiatives.

The event was successfully organized with the dedicated efforts of the organizing team and student volunteers Dhruvi, Poonam Kr. Singh, Ritesh Kumar, and Thrisha Joshi. Overall, the Alumni Meet proved to be an enriching experience, boosting students' confidence, enhancing career awareness, and strengthening the long-term bond between the institute and its alumni.

Conclusion: The Alumni Meet emerged as an enriching and motivating experience, offering students practical insight into corporate expectations, greater confidence in shaping their academic and career paths, and a strong sense of connection with alumni who once walked the same campus. The department sincerely thanked all alumni for dedicating their time, as the event strengthened institute–alumni ties and laid the groundwork for continued involvement in future academic and career initiatives.
